FOR WHOM

- Underwriting and claims executives.
- Marketing and business development personnel, including insurance brokers and agents.
- Anyone wishing to acquire some basic technical knowledge in the areas of engineering and construction, with insurance application in particular.

KEY LEARNING OUTCOMES

By the end of the programme, the participants will be able to:

- Describe the basic engineering disciplines, its techniques and construction procedures.
- Have a basic knowledge of the design codes and methods of construction.
- Relate the basic technical terms used in engineering and construction sector, especially when underwriting risks or processing claims in these related areas.

PROGRAMME HIGHLIGHTS

This 2-day programme is designed to equip participants with a strong grounding and understanding of the technical aspects of engineering and construction risks, as they apply to insurance. The knowledge acquired will guide participants in the assessment and underwriting of construction risks, as well as the handling and evaluation of such claims.

Apart from lectures, case studies, discussions and interactions, there will be an opportunity for participants to make a site-visit to an appropriate construction site. This will enable them to appreciate construction issues better from a practical point of view.
